REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

The Past and Present Week-Prospect of

Market-Sales Yesterday.
The volume of business transacted during the reek has been considerable, and many of the effected were of importance. The market, except on Thursday, was not an active, one, but at e same time it has remained firm, with considerinquiry for desirable lots. In rents business has been brisk, and in the matter of building there is an increase over the week previous. Dealers in property express great confidence that in April activity will take the place of existing dulness. The following is in brief a recapitulation of the week's sales. Total value, $808,596. Corresponding figures for the week ending Salurday, March 11, $311,650, which gives an increase of 4406,243. The sales projected for the present week are numerous and the property findsded in the same particularly valuable. The transactions proposed should be attended with success, for it is but seldom that better opportunities for investment are presented. The week opened discouragingly and the class of bidders this morang were not of a heavy order. The property offered was not of a speculative nature and was only suitable for regular investment. The following is a detailed account of the day's transactions: ias been brisk, and in the matter of building there

It cost $17,900.
Abraham C. Underhill has sold his mili and dock property in Glen Cove for $7,000. The Glenn farm has been sold for $6,000.

As one of the results of the Westchester annexation scheme and the near solution of the rapid transit problem, a sale is announced for Wednesday of this week of building sites at Fordham Ridge, near Kingsbridge, being an undivided third part of a tract of twenty-nine acres held in common by H. B. Cladin, W. Teft and W. R. Fields.

METHODIST MINISTERS ON AMUSEMENTS.

The Methodist preachers yesterday discussed briefly and somewhat promiscuously their duties and relations as ministers toward fashionable pleasures and amusements. Revs. W. Gorse, W. C. Smith, Drs. De Vinne and Ferris, Revs. J. W. Shaf-Loudon, Wood and others participated in the debate. There was a pretty general acknowledgment of entire ignorance on the part of the speakers in regard to theatricals and domestic amusements, such as billiards, backgammon, chess, chequers, which as billiards, backgammon, chess, chequers, whist and so forth, all of which were unqualifiedly condemned. It was, however, admitted that indulgence in such amusements and pleasures is very common among church members, young and old. Some of the speakers were in favor of disciplining members guilty of this breach of morals; others favored a firm stand and uncompromising hostility by ministers from taeir earliest pastoral relations toward them; while others, among whom the Rev. Mr. Shaffer led, considered that the day for disciplining or expelling members from church because they amuse themselves with dances or innocent games has passed, and that those things should receive a more liberal interpretation. He acknowledged that his two sons and two daughters sometimes dance in his parior to their own music, and father and mother occasionally join with them, and he did not think it wrong. The reverend gentleman brought down upon his unconscious and innocent head the wrath of the more radical members, who were in favor of applying the discipline of the Church to him. The idea was expressed that unless the dance and the amusement can be opened and closed with prayer and be sanctified by the word of God they are necessarily wrong. But the subject acquired magnitude and importance as its discussion progressed, and it was therefore adopted as the regular topic for next Monday, and Dr. Ferris was appointed to open the debate thereon. ment of entire ignorance on the part of the speakers
